Mod: (ENG)Jack_Bosshard_v2.0_SuperDepththroat.txt. A: Another way to get an old school "blowjob" sound in certain games, is to use the Windows Speech Recognition Utility. The thing is, it works with all types of sounds, so if you are looking for a specific voice, that's a good option. The speech recognition utility comes in a zip file, and you can install the program to your system like you would any other program. Once the program has been installed, you have to do one more thing. You need to enable the option to play sounds that are spoken. Then you can simply give the option to play with "Speak" (only works with desktop programs) and the utility will recognize the sound and "say" it back. It's actually the best way I've found to get around having the voice acting in games in general. Because it works with all sorts of voices, it doesn't have to be a specific voice for the game. To study the expression of thrombomodulin (TM) and heparan sulfate (HS) in inflammatory myofibroblastic tumor (IMT), and to investigate their significance in the tumorigenesis of IMT. Immunohistochemical staining of TM and HS was performed in 20 cases of IMT, 13 cases of angiofibroma (AF), 6 cases of granular cell tumor (GCT), 4 cases of pleomorphic adenoma (PA), and 3 cases of normal salivary gland tissue. Positive expression of TM in IMT was seen in 80% (16/20) of the cases, and that of HS in 66.7% (13/20). Positive staining of TM was seen in 81.8% (10/12) of the cases of AF, while that of HS was seen in 83.3% (10/12). Positive staining of TM in IMT was significantly higher than that in GCT ($P = 0.041$), and no difference was found between IMT and PA ($P > 0.05$). The positive rate of HS in IMT was higher than that in GCT ($P < 0.05$).
