In the marketing business, we need to go beyond being just a place to spend money to be a much more valuable place to spend your time. We are where our customers are. If we spend too much time as a luxury place to get a coffee or as a place to download free content, we'll lose the interest of our customers. We need to be a place where our clients are looking to buy or sell what we have to offer. If we are the go to place to do some research on the Internet, we can lose customers to places where they want a one stop shop.
